Dear Customer,

We would like to inform you about several ongoing and upcoming developments that may affect container transport flows from the Port of Rijeka to Serbia by rail. These changes may impact transit times, train scheduling, and operational procedures related to container handling and inland transportation.

To support your planning and ensure full transparency, we would like to share the key updates outlined below and their potential impact on cargo movements across the Adriatic corridor.

Please find the details in the following sections.

Rijeka Gateway Port

-Terminal occupation and operations - under control

Import

Units in backlog – 4 days delay

*Meaning - first train dedicated for berthed vessel is only loaded "X" days after vessel departure

Export

Terminal occupation and operations - under control

Upcoming closures and general info

Currently, rail traffic is experiencing disruptions due to congestion at the Tovarnik–Šid border crossing, as a result, please expect deviations in arrivals.

Please be informed that the left track of the Novska–Tovarnik–Šid line, specifically the section between Slavonski Brod and Sibenj, will be permanently closed from 27 June 2026 at 20:00 until 14 July 2026 at 21:30. During this period, all traffic will be operated via the right track. Potential transit time delays are expected, impacting weeks W27, W28 and W29
